Curves holds Fit for Heart

February is Heart Month and Curves for Women in Bolton has partnered with the Heart and Stroke Foundation to offer an event known as Fit for Heart!

Fit for Heart enables adults to participate in a fun, fitness-based fund-raising activity while learning the importance of heart-healthy choices.

Curves for Women in Bolton will be hosting their Fit for Heart events all day Wednesday, Feb. 28 and every participant will take us one step closer to helping thousands of Canadians protect themselves from these diseases. If you are interested in participating in one of these fabulous events please contact Nadia Casagrande at 905-951-8795.

Active now in Canada for over 20 years, the Fit for Heart program continues to attract a growing number of enthusiastic participants. The 2005/2006 season counted 175 community organizations and 8,000 people getting fit while raising funds. This support helped to raise over $1 million for vital research and health education.

the independent research organization The Fraser Institute.

The rankings were based on the nine key indicators derived from the province-wide tests of reading, writing and mathematics skills administered by the province's Education Quality and Accountability Office.

"The report card shows parents how each school is doing in academics, not just in one year, but, most importantly, over a number of years," said Peter Cowley, the institute's director of school performance studies and co-author of the report card. "The report card also enables teachers and administrators as well as parents to compare results for their schools with those of other similar schools across the province. By demonstrating what can be accomplished, such comparisons can make a useful contribution to each school's ongoing improvement efforts."
