Show for kids who won't leave the nest

Big Coat Productions Inc. is proud to announce that esteemed Toronto-based designer Andrika Lawren has been chosen to host their newest television series for HGTV, Guess What, You're Moving Out!

Lawren is no stranger to HGTV's viewers as she currently is seen on the hit HGTV series My Parents' House.

Guess What, You're Moving Out! is a new design reality series that surprises adult kids with a gentle but firm nudge to move out of their parents' home. The host and design team will conspire with parents, family members and friends, to get these 'adult kids' out of the house so the team can move in, move their stuff out and get the candidates gone for good! The Guess What team will then help these adult kids design and set up their own personally designed and decorated pads.

Lawren and her Guess What team are looking for those adult kids who are just a bit too comfortable in their

the year. Net nabbing for Freezerland were Kristen Hann (3g), Paul Medeiros (1g, 1a), Brian Major (1g, parents' home and have no desire to move out in the near future! Potential candidates must be between the ages of 25-35 living in southern Ontario and can afford to leave home. Guess What, You're Moving Out! is cutting the apron strings one design at a time!

If you know someone who you want to nominate, now is your chance to give your son, daughter, brother, sister, cousin or friend a surprise of a lifetime by applying to casting@gwymmo.com or logging onto www.myparentshouse.com to download an application form. But remember - it's a surprise!

1a), Jason Cullihall (3a), and Corey Cullihall (2a).

B. Andrews' twine ticklers were Junior Gillard (1g), Keith Tolmie (2g), Chris Purchase (1g, 1a), Dion Stuckless (1g, 1a), Robin Anderson (2a), Shawn Bussey (1a) and Tyrone Gordon (1a).

Sports Unlimited 6, Carney Plumbing 2

Sharpshooters for Sports were Jon Lee (2g, 1a), Jeremy Rahn (1g), Claudio Campoli (1g, 1a), Aiden Maloney (1g, 1a), Nelson Medeiros (1g, 1a), Steve Suave (2a), Kelly Lyons (2a), Adam Montgomery (1a) and Jeremy Ciccerelli (1a).

Ghost Rider sizzles

By Mark Pavilons
Editor

In the latest installment of comic book heroes, Johnny Blaze hits the screen in Ghost Rider, starring Nicolas Cage and Eva Mendes.

Cage is great as the cursed stunt rider Blaze, who hunts down demons for the devil, making good on a bargain. The movie has some great, tense moments and Cage is well suited to this ill-fitting superhero. Great supporting performances by Sam Elliot (Caretaker) and Peter Fonda (Mephistopheles).

The special effects are quite something. There are two versions on DVD coming out June 12 - a one-disc theatrical version and the special extended two-disc version which contains additional scenes, animatics, commentaries and a featurette.

Great fun, great entertainment. And likely more sequels in the years to come.

May is Cystic Fibrosis Awareness Month

We all look forward to the "golden years," but imagine being told that you will never have the opportunity to enjoy this precious time because you have a disease that only gives you, on average, a life expectancy of 30+ years.

This is the unfortunate reality for cystic fibrosis (CF) patients. It is a disease which affects many young Canadians each year and reminds us of the importance in raising awareness of it during Cystic Fibrosis Awareness Month.

CF affects the lungs and digestive system. It is the most common fatal, genetic disorder affecting young Canadians. CF causes severe breathing problems by creating a thick build-up of mucus, making it difficult to clear bacteria and leads to cycles of infection and inflammation damaging sensitive lung tissue. CF affects the digestive tract by making it extremely difficult to digest and absorb adequate nutrients from food. Thick mucus blocks the ducts of the pancreas which prevents enzymes from reaching the intestines to digest food. This forces the CF patient to consume large numbers of artificial enzymes with every meal and snack to assist their digestive system in absorbing important nutrients.

Those affected by the disease are born with it. It is estimated that one in every 3,600 children born in Canada has CF. Presently, there are approximately 3,400 children, adolescents, and adults attending specialized CF clinics, in Canada.

Thanks to the tremendous work and efforts in research and clinical care, growing numbers of children with CF are surviving into adulthood. In 1960, when the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CCFF) was founded, a child born with CF rarely lived four years. Today, half of all Canadians diagnosed with CF are expected to live into their late 30s and beyond.

There is no known cure for CF as of yet, which highlights the importance of supporting critical research to find a cure. Cystic Fibrosis Awareness Month is an excellent opportunity to build on the progress made in recent years and to continue the fight against it. During the month of May, two Canada-wide events are taking place, including National Kin - Cystic Fibrosis Day and the Great Strides walk, to raise funds for research and care, allowing CF patients to live longer and healthier lives.

I encourage Canadians to support the fight against CF this month by participating in CF events and by learning more about this disease and encouraging others to do so as well. If we each do our part, we can assist in increasing the life expectancy of those affected by CF and come even closer to finding a cure.

For more information on CF, the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CCFF), and related events during May, please visit CCFF's Web site at www.cysticfibrosis.ca.
