

OPP issues reminded about snowmobile safety

With the anticipated arrival of warmer temperatures over the next few days and potential increased snowmobile use over the holiday season, Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) are reminding snowmobilers to plan their routes carefully.

The snow that has fallen from recent winter storms acts as a warm blanket on the thin ice, making rivers and lakes appear safe when they are not.

"Ice conditions can change rapidly each day due to milder temperatures, so we urge those who operate snowmobiles to be aware of the trail conditions. When unsure, avoid traveling over any bodies of water" commented Chief Superintendent Bill Grodzinski, commander of the Highway Safety Division and the Province's snowmobile programs.

Already this winter, in eastern Ontario, OPP has investigated a snowmobile death attributed to thin ice conditions when three victims drove across a lake and fell through the ice. Tragically, one passenger was not able to pull himself from the frigid water.

A safe return from a snowmobile trip starts with proper planning before leaving. Let others know where you are going and when you will return. Pick up trail maps and information about the trails in the area where you are going to ride. Information on trail conditions is available from the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs (OFSC) at www.ofsc.on.ca.

OFSC has issued a Yellow Alert in relation to current snowmobiling conditions in the province. This signals the need to use patience and be cautious on swamps and waterways, "because the weight and insulating effect of the heavy snow may cause slush, and ice that was not safe before the storm may be weakened by the extra snow."

Service clubs pitch in

Members of the Rotary Club of Palgrave have stepped up this holiday season in support of Caledon Community Services (CCS). Rotarian Peter Swain handed over a cheque for $2,000 to Amy Whidden, Lori Pirroncello and Vicki Deliberato of CCS. Members of the Kinsmen Club of Bolton have also done their bit to assist efforts of CCS. Deliberato and Pirroncello flank Club President Richard Hatch as he makes the donation of $1,000.

dren, youth, seniors and entire families, every single person in the room became part of the CCS family; a family that takes care of its own in our community, a family that steps up to the plate in ways that are simply extraordinary.

It has been said that a single act of kindness throws out roots in all directions and the roots make new trees. The greatest work that kindness does to others is that it makes them kind themselves. Thank you Caledon for your kindness. You're the reason CCS makes magic happen over the holidays and throughout the year.

May we take this opportunity to wish you all a very happy holiday season, peace and good health throughout 2008. And please accept our deepest gratitude, on behalf of the entire organization, for your outstanding support on behalf of our community and our wonderful health and social service agency, Caledon Community Services.
