

ZooTek animals make lots of friends

There was a good crowd of young people out Monday at the Margaret Dunn Valleywood branch of the Caledon Public Library to see an assortment of exotic animals from ZooTek. At the top, Doug Grabinsky (right) of ZooTek invited all to meet this Asian water monitor named Lazz. Lily Hurley, 4, was pretty excited to be holding this Mexican king snake named Pedro, while Chelsea Uusitalo, 6, was sort of modeling this python named Rocky as she walked around the room showing him to others.

COUPLE CELEBRATES 66 YEARS, EVEN IF CAN'T BE TOGETHER

July 15 was Bob and Verna Jessup's 66th wedding anniversary. Mr. Jessup lives at 60 Jane St. and his wife resides at King Nursing Home. They were not able spend their anniversary together due to her condition, but Mr. Jessup wanted to celebrate with the residents of the apartment building, and to provide everyone with a steak dinner with all the trimmings, cake, wine, etc. Bob Wallace played the guitar and they sang the good old songs. It was a very nice evening. Mr. Jessup goes every day to feed his wife breakfast and lunch. He will be 90 in September.

Registration is open for United Way Run, Walk and Roll

Peel Region's 2010 United Way Employee Campaign is now accepting on-line registrations for its inaugural Run, Walk and Roll five and 10-kilometre Course at www.walkandrollpeel.ca

The event, which takes place Oct. 30, is presented by Walk+Roll Peel and all proceeds will benefit the United Way of Peel Region.

"The event is fast approaching and with space limited to 1,000 participants for the five-K event and 100 lucky children for the one-K Kid's Course, the time to register is now," commented Joanne Pattison, co-chair of the Region's 2010 United Way Employee Campaign.

The Run, Walk and Roll 5K for the United Way is a family-oriented, wheelchair accessible event open to everyone. The event route begins and ends at 10 Peel Centre Dr. in Brampton and travels along Queen Street, which will be closed for the duration of the event. There are three course options for participants to choose from: a five-km chip timed event; a five-km non-chip timed event and a one-km kid's course. Individuals in wheelchairs and parents with children in strollers or wagons are encouraged to participate. Service animals are welcome, however, no pets, bikes, skateboards or rollerblades are allowed on the course.

"Even if you're not running or walking, there are many other ways to get involved," remarked Karen MacGougan, the other co-chair of the employee campaign. "We have several fund-raising, sponsorship and volunteer opportunities available that allow you to help make this event a true success and support the United Way."

Several exciting prizes will be awarded event day in a variety of categories, including the most funds raised by an individual and by a team through pledge collections. Pledge forms are available at www.walkandrollpeel.ca, as well as full details on the many prize categories.

For on-line registration and full event details, visit www.walkandrollpeel.ca
